

Newcastle Health Determinants Research Collaboration (HDRC)

Health Determinants Research Collaboration's \(HDRC\) are nationally recognised centres of 'research excellence,' based in and led by local government. Newcastle City Council and Newcastle University collaborate together for Newcastle upon Tyne HDRC

The HDRC provides a collaborative team with skills, expertise and capacity to plan and deliver research that help residents to live healthier and more fulfilling lives in Newcastle upon Tyne.

HDRC's combine the local knowledge and experience of local authority councils and their community partners with the skills and expertise of specialist research teams.

The National Institute for Health & Care Research \(NIHR\) provides funding and support nationally.

Last updated: April 25, 2023

Email: hdrc@newcastle.gov.uk