Information NOW
Information for people in Newcastle upon Tyne

Farrell Centre

The Farrell Centre is a centre for Cities and Architecture, near Haymarket on Newcastle University's main campus. They offer exhibitions, workshops and activities for visitors of all ages. Giving you the opportunity to access a platform to debate the future of planning and architecture.

It's free to visit. They offer a variety of experiences such as: exhibitions, public talks and debates, activities for schools, young people, community groups, professional events, as well as publications, podcasts and other digital projects. See their website for more details about what's on.

Last updated: August 22, 2024

Website: https://www.farrellcentre.org.uk

Email: hello@farrellcentre.org.uk

Twitter: https://twitter.com/FarrellCentre

Facebook: https://www.facebook.com/FarrellCentre

Opening Hours: Wednesday to Sunday, 10am to 5pm

Address:
The Sir Terry Farrell Building
Eldon Place
Newcastle upon Tyne
NE1 7RD